There was a vacant chair at the Pahokee Rotary Club yesterday. Earl Smith wasn't there.

Just a week ago Earl had announced at the club that plans had been completed for the Rotarians to meet in the Lions' new building—the first meeting in the new location was scheduled for yesterday. The meeting was held at the home of the Rotarian who had made the plans for the change, was not among those present.

Earl passed away quietly in his sleep Sunday night. A fatal heart attack. The esteem in which he was held in the community was evidenced by the community's sorrowing friends and the many beautiful floral offerings at the funeral Wednesday afternoon.

The Pahokee Rotary club will be 14 years old and Earl's death wrote new history for the club. The first native Pahokee Rotarian to answer the final call. And, so, on weekdays we had a memorial service in his honor.

The memorial service was short but impressive. Rotarian C. A. Moberg—at the piano—played one verse and the chorus of "The Old Rugged Cross." Following all members stood for a moment of silent tribute to the departed Rotarian. Following the moment of silence Rotarian Moberg offered prayer.

It will be a long time before Rotarians forget Earl, Smith's smile and his always cheery greeting.

Warning About $5 Auto Stamp

Gaines post office in an announcement a few weeks ago gave a reduction in the price of the $5 auto use stamp, which may be purchased for $4.75. However, the reduced price is only for use on motor vehicles put into use after August 1, 1943. Persons who used their mail checks during the month of July to buy a reduced price stamp are doing so fraudulently and are breaking the law more so than the ones without them.

The Deputy Collector urged all those who have not yet bought their $5 auto stamp to send their name and address to him for a refund of $4.00 to the Collector of Internal Revenue at Jacksonville, Florida, and their stamp will be mailed to them. Their remittance, he said, should be in the form of a certified check or Post Office Money Order.

"Persons who cannot find their stamp, properly posted on their windshield, are subject to a fine of $25," he announced.

Canal Point School Ready For Opening J. B. Cox To Leave

By Paul Rardin

The Canal Point Public School plant is ready for another year of educational service for the boys and girls of this community. The janitor has every desk and all of the floors freshly varnished and cleaned throughout for the pupils of the school.

Due to the severe decrease in enrollment, it has been found wise to let the seventh and eighth grades register in Pahokee. The school will then offer other groups of the school the opportunity that day. All pupils of the school will register at the school building Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

J. B. Cox, the genial principal of the school for the last thirteen years, will not be on hand to greet the boys and girls as he has transferred to the Central High School in West Palm Beach. Instead, however, Mrs. Wilma Lence, with long experience as teacher and principal, will greet the boys and girls of the first six grades.

Principal Lence will have the following teachers assisting her in the operation of the school: this year: Modestine L. Davis; Mrs. Marvel Griffith; Clara Marlowe and Ruth Dopp. Everlasting indicates that the school will enjoy another successful term.

Mr. Cox leaves the Canal Point school with a wealth of pleasant memories of his work during his fourteen years of service. The administration of the school, the school was the first in the Glades to attain a Superior rating with the state department, in 1935, which record it kept until the war began. During these years there has been a splendid spirit of cooperation between the parents of the patrons and the Parent-Teacher Association. Mr. Cox extends his thanks to every patron of the school for their splendid interest and help, and hopes for the continued interests of everyone in the interests of the boys and girls of the community.

Reasons for the early mailing dates are: The vast distance that the parcels must travel to reach our men at war fronts and stations the world over; frequent transfers of thousands of men from one location to another, which necessitates additional handling and consumes additional time; the necessity for giving preference to reinforcements, arms, munitions, medicine, and food in allotment of shipping space, which often means that the shipments of gifts must wait.

And the most urgent that gifts must be mailed on time. The Navy also urges that gifts be mailed September 15 and October 18.

"We urge you to remember the policy chief said, "that we will never forget the young men again this year. With co-operation such as we have had in the past, we hope to chalk up another year of school with no serious traffic accidents."

Christmas gifts may be mailed by parcel post to Army men and women overseas only between November 1 and December 15.

After the latter date, such parcels may not be mailed unless a written request from the soldier for the article is presented with each parcel. No soldier should have to ASK for a Christmas gift; gifts must be mailed on time. The Navy also urges that gifts be mailed September 15 and October 18.

GRANDMA GOES TO WAR

"Our Committee's national advisory committee has now worked has surveyed the use of mature women in war work and has carefully estimated the proficiency and efficiency of such women. The report shows that older women have compensating advantages to every disadvantage that has been or could be cited as an excuse for failure to employ them."

It was found, for example, that both men and women of middle age and later are a tendency slightly above that of the average to be absent on account of illness. This tendency is compensated for by the fact that they are less frequently absent for other reasons. This means that "an older woman may miss a few more days because of illness than her daughter but that she misses fewer days because of a desire for amusement of the time for nursing a hangover or the wish to get a promotion wage or to meet the boy friend near his military cantonment."

It was found that older women are usually a little slower. To compensate for this it was discovered that they are more careful and spoil less material.

Are these opinions sustained by actual experience? The committee declares that they are. Actual records of experiences cited show women as old as 70 doing steady work day after day.

This being so, why not put the mature women of the country who need work and who seek employment into jobs appropriate to their talents and physical abilities?

Such is a sensible answer to this question as far as all except that it has not been the custom.

No one who has failed to offer employment to mature women has a right to complain of a manpower shortage.—Tallahassee Democrat.

GRATEFUL AMERICANS

New dispatches have told of surprising gifts being offered to the United States government from grateful Americans. They are outright gifts, offered with honest hearts in the interest of an early victory.

Large contributions have ranged from one cent to $25,000, and have reached the惊人的 total of four and a half million dollars. Besides this amount, there is an undisclosed number of war bonds and miscellaneous gifts of every imaginable description.

They are sent from thousands of Uncle Sam's nephews who are thankful to live in a free country, thankful to breathe the air of freedom, and thankful for the opportunities offered ambitious men and women under the stars and stripes.—Titusville Star-Advocate.

HELPLESS

It was when two members of the same profession or business happened to meet the orthodox salutation was "how's business?" when two birds identified with the same industry meet the salutation is "got any help?"

With each passing month as the war progresses the labor situation becomes more acute, not only among war contract jobs, but especially in normal peacetime industry. Many of such industries while not engaged in the manufacture of fire arms and other munitions of war, still being most valuable adjuncts to the war.—Bartow Democrat.

TURTLE GAG

An exchange reports the finding of the really meanest man. He found in a store an adorably young turtle of varying sizes, and he bought it, discarding it in size from a half dollar up to as big as a small saucer. He gave the littlest one to his wife, who was fond of any kind of a pet, and she fixed a cozy little place to keep it.

Next morning the husband took the little turtle and replaced it with the next size larger, and nearly burst when his wife asked him if he was responsible for her feeding. Next day another exchange was made to a size larger, with still more hyperbole on the diet, and so on to the end of the six days. The lady was broadcasting all over the neighborhood about her still in turtle feeding and called in the neighbors to note the rapid growth.

Then this scoundrel of a husband reversed his position and began to grow smaller day by day. Contumacious replaced the wife's pride of achievement and her spirits diminished with the size of the turtle until the joke ran its course and the

What The Movies Have To Offer During The Coming Week

Well sir, surprises never cease! Some "naughty" witchcraft aimed coming our way. The latest one against the hero Fredric March, is the teaming of Veronica Lake and Frederic March in a showbiz godsend of the state that is entirely different than from snarling Miss his sweetheart anything Miss Lake has done in her past excellent movies.

This one, which will be screened at the Prince Theatre, on the evening of Saturday, again on Sunday and Monday, is "I Married a Witch." It stars the clever team and features Elizabeth Taylor, Guy Siner, Howard Da Silva, Cecile Kellaway, and many other well known Hollywood players.

In the picture Veronica Lake is seen as a smoky spirit travelsecret was released. What the poor woman did then is not recorded, but no jury would have endeavored to punish her for anything she might have done. — Arcadia Arcadian.

NEW YORKER'S DISCOVERY

A prominent New York newspaperman was on the way to a political convention in Denver.

In the morning when he went to the dining-car for his breakfast, the train was passing through the fertile fields of Illinois. Pretty towns, fine farms and clustered hamlets flitted by. Across the table from him the newspaperman sat a minor politician who had never before been out of the state of New York.

The politician gazed intently out the window, so enraptured by what he saw that he could do just justice to the mind which had been placed before him. Finally he broke the silence.

In the tone of making a great discovery, he exclaimed, "No matter how fat you go, there's human life!"—Collier County News.

WOMEN ARE WILLING

A poll of Orlando women shows that 80 per cent of them favor drafting if more women are needed in the war effort than have volunteered for such service and that compares very favorably with female sentiment throughout the country as per the Gallup poll.

The national poll shows 51 per cent of all women favoring a draft and 58 per cent of all women between 21 and 35, which comprises the age span of those that would be subject to draft under the present age grouping.

Women vote a majority against the proposal by a ratio of 39 to 54 with seven per cent undecided, perhaps including those waiting for an answer to that same old question that determines the future of couples.

The question, however, is one for the authorities to determine, for the government will extend selective service to include women and ought to take that step only on the basis of national necessity.

ORLANDO BOW AND ARROW WARRIOR

News comes from Britain that commando detachments are probably using bows and arrows to attack enemy shores. American troops have been using medical jungle fighting to dislodge the Japanese from some of their stolen territory, but this is the first instance we have heard of in which Indian type bow-and-arrow warfare has been adopted in the European theater.

Sentries can be dispatched effectively and quite noiselessly when the American bow and arrow is used, as many of our enemies know to sad experience. It would not be surprising if bows and arrows are standard equipment for some raiding parties.—Titusville Star-Advocate.

HEPPLLESS

It was when two members of the same profession or business happened to meet the orthodox salutation was "how's business?" when two birds identified with the same industry meet the salutation is "got any help?"

With each passing month as the war progresses the labor situation becomes more acute, not only among war contract jobs, but especially in normal peacetime industry. Many of such industries while not engaged in the manufacture of fire arms and other munitions of war, still being most valuable adjuncts to the war.—Bartow Democrat.

WARTIME SERVICE

Banks, shops, and services of all kinds are struggling along with smaller and inexperienced staffs. They are doing the best they can, and there is no sense in the personal indignation expressed by some people because they can't get the service to which they have been accustomed.

This country, probably more than any other, has made a lot of sacrifice. Doing what possible has been done for years past to make things easy for people. "Service with a smile" has been a slogan, and now when it is difficult to get the service, and the smiles are rarer because folks are over-worked and weary from coping with a carpenter and captain public, we can't seem to get used to it.—St. Augustine Record.

Midnight with Boston Blackie

"Gamblers are after three large diamonds in the possession of an ex-convict on parole, who is murdered for the key to his safety deposit box. Boston Blackie, ex-convict turned amateur detective, is asked to aid the murdered man's daughter and is himself suspected of murder. With the criminals and the police both after him, Blackie wades through several murder gun fights and escapes to round up the gang and clear himself.

This clever kid, Donald O'Connor, assisted by Gloria Jean, Peggy Dean, together with Robert Paige, the girls say he is a heart-throb, and Elyse Knox, we boys think she is pretty glamour too.

Well, we hope that we may come back October 10th to see his delightful fictional character in a new tale "Midnight with Boston Blackie" in a new tale "Midnight with Boston Blackie."

Those who remember this last year's smash hit "Midnight with Boston Blackie" will thoroughly enjoy this latest show of theirs which gives Gloria ample opportunity to render some sweet singing. Peggy Ryan to twist those clever legs of hers into rug cutting knots, Donald to pull every trick out of his bottomless bag, from hot dancing to sweet singing and some hilarious clowning and Robert Paige and Elyse Knox to romance which will delight all the feminine audience.

I am sure everyone who sits through his picture will come from the theatre satisfied that they have had an enjoyable evening.

On these mid-week shows there are current news and some interesting short subjects to round out each program.

On the Sunday-Monday screening comes another interesting subject from the producers of "This is America".

The Range Busters will be with us on Saturday with another of their gay slinging wire operas under the title "Boulder Bandits." They will thrill the audience in the "Secret Code," which I understand all the members of the Six Shooters Club are enjoying each week and some nice comedy subjects.

And there it is folks! Now we are in September and the big War Bond drive is on. Don't you want to buy a bond as quickly as possible? Don't you want boys' backs home as soon as we can get them? Then get behind this drive! Buy an extra bond this month and give the boys a lift to Berlin!

See you at the movies—Mal.

O

N your vacation and business trips in the past—as well as at your neighborhood Service Station—you have been served often by loyal men in the Standard Oil uniform. They were loyal to you—they were loyal to us.

It was only natural that men in whom the quality of loyalty was inbred and cherished should respond in large numbers to the call of their country. Hundreds of these stanch and faithful men have exchanged their old Service uniforms for the new uniform of greater service to Uncle Sam.

Someday they will be coming back, their new job finished. You will find them still loyal to you when they return and change their uniforms again.

In the meantime other loyal men, who have been at their home posts, are upholding this service tradition under difficult and sometimes trying conditions.

Loyalty is that personal trait in individuals which makes a Company great—and wins wars.

Because government requirements for service men, limited supplies of raw materials and the biggest popular demand in our history sometimes overtax our facilities, there will be occasions when your favorite dealer is temporarily out of JAX, the Beer of Friendship.

When this happens, please be patient. We don't like it any better than you do. Your dealer is disappointed, too. But if you can't get JAX today, you'll almost certainly be able to get it tomorrow because we are trying in every possible way to see that everyone has a fair share of this golden, richly malty beer.

JAX is a grand brew that you can enjoy or serve proudly on any occasion. Even if you can't get it today, it will be out of JAX occasionally. Remember that this fine beer is truly worth waiting for—that you can't buy better beer no matter what you pay.

TO OUR DEALERS

Gifts To Boys In—
 There can be no assurance, of course, that the first-ship sailing for any of these locations will have space available to carry Christmas parcels. Gifts may have to wait until vitally needed supplies and equipment have been shipped, to assure victory and to save the lives of our men. If the parcels are not mailed early, that will give the shipping lines enough time to prevent their arrival by Christmas day, with consequent disappointment to the men who are offering their lives for their country and ours.

Mail of all kinds is vital to the spirit of fighting men. Every officer who has inspected our Army mail facilities overseas has overseas has reported that thousands of fighting men disregard mass mail when it conflicts with mail call, and get their letters first. Officers at our large military and naval stations report that the spirit and efficiency of their men receive a distinct lift when mail is distributed, and that a delay in mail service causes a decided decline in spirit with a consequent letdown in efficiency.
